Comments on instructor - MATTHEW BADDORF

What are the major strengths of this instructor?

He's really good at listening and is very organized. He picked some good papers to have our class read. He tries to make things interesting. He is understanding.

Please share any suggestions for improvement

He should be more confident and assertive. He should also be more communicative and honest when editing papers.

Comments on course

What are the major strengths of this course?

It introduced to important aspects of writing that we might not have been previously aware of.

Please share any suggestions for improvement

Peer editing as an assignment was futile because students just wanted to get it over with and never really tried to honestly edit a paper. I did not benefit at all from my peer edits and probably wasted my time trying to do it well for others when they don't even look at them. I was also hoping the class would be more about ethics than it was.

Sometimes your assignments/feedback could be wordy and hard to understand.

Comments on course

What are the major strengths of this course?

Strengthened core writing skills.

Please share any suggestions for improvement

The actual class period was not effective or interesting. We hardly did things of value in class time. The assignments were good, but class was definitely lacking. I felt like we were just filling the time with pointless activities and conversations that weren't interesting or relevant to the course description.

What are the major strengths of this instructor?

Professor Baddorf displays a great amount of respect for his students as well as a passion for teaching. These two characteristics make his class easy to understand and enjoy.

Please share any suggestions for improvement

I have no suggestions.

Comments on course

What are the major strengths of this course?

The major strengths of this course are the continuation of previous expectations with every new assignment- you cannot forget the skills that you have already been taught.

Please share any suggestions for improvement

I felt that some of the readings were slightly too long and drawn out.
