Teaching skills - MATTHEW BADDORF

	Not at all	A little	Somewhat	Quite a bit	A lot

The instructor noticed when students did not understand and adjusted accordingly.	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Comments:

I felt as though none of the readings or topics we discussed in class had anything to do with the topic of global ethics, the classes proposed focus. All we covered through readings and class time was fundamental writing skills, which were never clearly described or effectively described during class.

Rapport with students - MATTHEW BADDORF

	Not at all	A little	Somewhat	Quite a bit	A lot
The instructor demonstrated sincere respect for students.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

The instructor made himself/herself available for extra help.	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input checked="" type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Comments:

I felt that Instructor Baddorf taught the class as if we were middle schoolers. I also felt that he did not listen respectfully to the thoughts of all students in the class, or give clear reasoning regarding his grading or essay commentary.

Comments:

I honestly felt that each class was waste of time, where I could have been taking a class I was more interested in. I felt that class discussions and lectures were very informal and often not well organized. I felt like we did very little with our class time each week.

What are the major strengths of this course?

Please share any suggestions for improvement

I feel like organization would be a major improvement for the course. Along with more of a focus on actual discussion based on ethical situations which are globally occurring. Rather than unclear discussions (or lack there of, because the class was often silent) of writing techniques..

Comments on instructor - MATTHEW BADDORF

What are the major strengths of this instructor?

Very thoughtful and helpful in his comments on our papers. Always took the time in class to answer student questions, discuss topics we brought up, respectfully say his opinion if appropriate, and make sure we were satisfied before moving on. Considerate of student needs (e.g. not making our big paper our last paper), and willing to adjust (e.g. extending a deadline, adjusting readings). Clear rubric for what he would be grading us on. Made us write paragraphs about what we needed to revise, which helped focus my revisions.

Please share any suggestions for improvement

He definitely made efforts to encourage quieter people to speak up more in the larger group and encourage more talkative people to step back sometimes, but trying to facilitate this even more might have been helpful. Some possible approaches: more frequent reminders ("Step Up Step Back" guideline), saying you want to hear from everybody, reminding the more talkative people to give room to the quieter ones, even calling on quieter people. I liked that he did small group discussions often, though, which got everybody engaged.

Comments on course

What are the major strengths of this course?

Multiple drafts on papers (with peer and instructor comments) helped me see where I needed to revise. Well-paced for what a freshman student can realistically do (for the most part). Interesting readings about writing -- not just from a textbook. Gave me writing techniques at all levels of detail: sentence, paragraph, essay, etc. Interesting readings about global justice. Gave me a better idea of how to do research -- especially with the librarians available to help.

Please share any suggestions for improvement

More chance to apply the specific writing techniques we read about / learned about. One of the grading objectives for each paper could be based on the student's personal writing goal, to try to encourage personal growth.
